PROTECT AND PROVIDE

B Forms a second skin around A to protect it from the exterior forces of C while also providing access for the selected exterior forces of D

TEMPLE GATEWAY

This building shows an addition to a temple that works to reject some people from the building while also allowing other people in as well. The panels create certain shapes that visitors of the temple have to fit into, similar to games seen in Japanese game shows. This system is also built into the exterior of the temple as a secondary skin.
